Description:

Highland Park United Methodist Church is located on the campus of Southern Methodist University in Dallas, Texas, and has a rich history dating back to the founding of the university. From its humble beginnings, the church has continued to grow, even beyond the main campus. Highland Park United Methodist is comprised of a staff of more than 100 and a congregation base of over 15,000 members. The church now offers five types of worship opportunities on two campuses.

One of the five types of worship opportunities offered is “Cornerstone.” Cornerstone is a contemporary, user-friendly worship community that longs to lift up the message of Jesus Christ in a modern, relevant way. The 60-minute service is designed to inspire and equip our congregation to have a more meaningful relationship with Christ.

During the course of the ministry internship, students will be introduced to all aspects of the planning and production of a worship service for Cornerstone. Specifically, students will be exposed to the various aspects of planning and developing a sermon series including: creating the theological framework for the series; building a service order; planning the creative expression of the series; and working with elements of print design, video, interactive media, staging, and music. Students will also be exposed to the technical production of a modern worship service, including: technical planning, production run sheets, lighting, stage plots, camera work, audio, and multiple camera switching.
