All precourse assignments should be emailed to the Course of Study Office by June 20, 2013. If you are attending the two/four week summer school session then the precourse work for this course is due May 1st with all other precourse assignments. If you are only attending the weekend session then your precourse work is due June 20th, and no precourse work will be accepted after June 20th.

Course Description
This course emphasizes the integration of the role of the practicing pastor with the church’s theological heritage and its particular Wesleyan expression. The course also stresses theology as an ongoing task of critical reflection for the purpose of action. Consideration is given to issues, events, and institutions that form the context within which the pastor is required to think, speak, and act with theological clarity.

Course Objectives
• Continued growth of the pastor’s identity as theologian and the development of his or her own credo (a written statement of the pastor’s own understanding of Christian doctrine)
• Focus upon thinking theologically about everyday activities and contemporary events in the political, economic, and social areas of life
• Reflection upon a variety of theological perspectives in order to apply a faithful critique to persons who claim to be God’s voices in our time
• Integration of the pastor’s theological understanding in the practice and evaluation of ministry
• Encouragement of lifelong theological reading, reflection, and growth

   Plagiarism Policy
   I have read the plagiarism definition below and verify that this assignment represents my own work, except where credit is given. I have also made copies of this assignment and I will bring them with me to class in the event that any of my work is misplaced.

   Plagiarism Defined
   “You plagiarize when, intentionally or not, you use someone’s words or ideas but fail to credit that person. You plagiarize even when you do credit the author but use his exact words without so indicating with quotation marks or block indentation. You also plagiarize when you use words so close to those in your source, that if your work were placed next to the source, it would be obvious that you could not have written what you did without the source at your elbow. When accused of plagiarism, some writers claim I must have somehow memorized the passage. When I wrote it, I certainly thought it was my own. That excuse convinces very few.” From page 167 of The Craft of Research by Wayne C. Booth, Gregory G. Colomb, and Joseph M. Williams, published in 1995 by The University of Chicago Press in Chicago.

7. If you do not follow the procedure your precourse work WILL NOT BE ACCEPTED!!!!!!!
