All precourse assignments should be emailed to the Course of Study Office by May 1, 2014.

Course Description
This course focuses on preaching the gospel. Central concerns are the utilization of biblical exegesis, sermon preparation and delivery, and evaluation of the pastor’s preaching.

Course Objectives
- Utilization of biblical exegesis for preaching with reference to the lectionary
- Awareness of and skills for understanding the context for preaching (congregation and community)
- Evaluation of sermons for biblical authenticity, theological soundness, and contemporary relevance
- Appropriation of insights gained from the evaluation of the student’s sermons
- Analytical participation in the evaluation of the sermons of classmates
- Development of skills in the ordering and delivery of a sermon

Required Textbooks

Precourse Assignments
- Write a two-page paper discussing the importance of exegesis and in your own words discuss the difference of the focus and function statements. Utilize chapters 3 and 4 from Long’s book to write the paper.
- Type no more than a one page description of your local setting (context of their congregation). Include these things: number of members, urban/rural setting/ socio-economic/racial makeup, overview etc.
- Write a two-page paper discussing your interpretation of Craddock’s “The Sermon in Context”. Also discuss your understanding of his thought regarding “Proceeding from Silence” to “Shouted from the Housetop”. (2-3 pages)
- Read Part One of The Preaching Life by Brown Taylor and write a two-page paper highlighting the topics that you believe most relevant to the preaching life.
- Finally, be prepared to make a three minute speech on any subject of interest.
Please use minimal quotes from the book. The papers should reflect your understanding of the material and should show that you are familiar with the material of the assigned readings. In addition, each paper should be 12pt Times New Roman font and double-spaced.

Note: It will be helpful to have read all four books in their entirety before class begins.

There will be additional assigned lessons, which will come from the lectionary. You may find it helpful to bring with you commentaries and other resources that you normally use.

Guidelines for Written Assignments

- All papers should be typed, double-spaced, on 8 ½” by 11” paper, unless the instructor has asked for a different format specifically within the precourse work. Font should be Times New Roman or something similar and no larger than size 12. Margins are to be 1” on all four sides of each page.
- All papers must include a page number and the last name of the student in either the header or footer of every page.
- You should note the question you are answering at the beginning of each new section of materials.
- All papers should provide citations for all quoted material. You may use MLA, Turabain, APA or Chicago Style.
- Punctuation should be consistent; clarity of meaning is the primary purpose of punctuation. Edit and retype material as needed and check spelling in a standard dictionary.
- All papers should attempt to eliminate discriminatory language—for example: racism, ageism, sexism, classism, and prejudicial usage concerning handicapping conditions.

Inclusive Language Covenant

The faculty of Emory Course of Study School has adopted a covenant statement encouraging inclusiveness in the use of language, as follows:

The Inclusive Language Covenant is designed to create a linguistic environment in which all students, staff, and faculty can grow in understanding and appreciating the rich diversity of God’s people. The COS faculty commits itself—through continued discussion, reflection, and exploration—to using language in such a way that we respond to the fullness of God’s presence among us as much by our choice of words as by our care for one another. Recognizing that our experience with inclusive language is an integral part of theological formation, we invite students and others to share as partners with us in this learning process.

We understand “covenant” more in terms of its biblical and theological meaning than in a legal or contractual context. Covenant signifies the common commitment of a community of faith in response to God’s revelation and in partnership with one another. The values implied in the covenant have morally persuaded us to try to generate patterns of speech and behavior that bond the members of the community in mutual respect. We expect all members of the community to address issues of diversity constructively. The entire Inclusive Language Covenant can be found on the COS website, and you are encouraged to read the whole covenant.

   Plagiarism Policy - I have read the plagiarism definition below and verify that this assignment represents my own work, except where credit is given.
   Plagiarism Defined: “You plagiarize when, intentionally or not, you use someone else’s words or ideas but fail to credit that person, leading your readers to think that those words are yours. In all fields, you plagiarize when you use a source’s words or ideas without citing that source. In most fields, you plagiarize even when you do credit the source but use its exact words without using quotation marks or block indentation” (201-202). Booth, Wayne C. Booth, Gregory G. Colomb, and Joseph M. Williams. The Craft of Research, Second Edition. Chicago, IL: University of Chicago Press, 2003.
7. If you do not follow the procedure your precourse work WILL NOT BE ACCEPTED!
