Course Description and Outcomes
This course is the capstone to the student’s basic course of study. Its focus is the integration of the biblical, theological, and practical aspects of ministry.

Students will be able to:
1. Articulate a Trinitarian theology for the practice of ministry.
2. State clearly the nature and mission of the Church and its relation to pastoral ministry.
3. Demonstrate the ability to reflect theologically.
4. Develop a plan for lifelong theological reading, reflection, and growth.

Required Textbooks
- The Bible (a good, modern translation— the NRV, for instance)

Supplementary Textbooks – for future reference

Precourse Assignments
1. Read Shirley Guthrie’s book, taking notes for yourself on the important issues. (These are not to be sent to the instructor.) Notice that Guthrie writes from the perspective of the Reformed tradition. You may ignore his sections on the Reformed creeds.

   Write a five-page essay on four doctrines. You must begin with the Doctrine of the Trinity and end with the Doctrine of the Church. Select two other doctrines that are central to your faith. In extensive engagement and explicit dialogue with Guthrie’s book explain each of the four doctrines in your own words. What does each doctrine claim and why it is important? I need to see clearly that you have read and comprehended Guthrie’s suggestions and insights.

2. Read Wood and Blue’s book and write a four-page essay with the following components:
• An analysis of how the authors define theology and why they believe it is essential to ministry?
• An analysis of three of the cases the authors write about and how they make use of theological reflection in addressing the issues of each case.
• A discussion of a situation you have had in your own appointment and how theological reflection helped or could have helped in your approach to addressing the issues of your case.

Rules for your work

Be sure to write in your own words, using quotations infrequently and only to support a point that you have already made. Document your essay with in-text notation indicating on which page you found the information that you are using or to which you are referring. For your documentation and any quotations, use Modern Language Association (MLA) formatting style, which can be found at Purdue University’s Owl, the online writing lab: https://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/747/01/. Because each question uses only one book for the assignment, you need only the page number. The author’s name and a works cited page is not necessary.

Guidelines for Written Assignments

• All papers should be typed, double-spaced, on 8 ½” by 11” paper, unless the instructor has asked for a different format specifically within the precourse work. Font should be Times New Roman or something similar and no larger than size 12. Margins are to be 1” on all four sides of each page.
• All papers must include a page number and the last name of the student in either the header or footer of every page.
• You should note the question you are answering at the beginning of each new section of materials.
• All papers should provide citations for all quoted material. You may use MLA, Turabain, APA or Chicago Style.
• Punctuation should be consistent; clarity of meaning is the primary purpose of punctuation. Edit and retype material as needed and check spelling in a standard dictionary.
• All papers should attempt to eliminate discriminatory language—for example: racism, ageism, sexism, classism, and prejudicial usage concerning handicapping conditions.

Inclusive Language Covenant

The faculty of Emory Course of Study School has adopted a covenant statement encouraging inclusiveness in the use of language, as follows:

The Inclusive Language Covenant is designed to create a linguistic environment in which all students, staff, and faculty can grow in understanding and appreciating the rich diversity of God’s people. The COS faculty commits itself—through continued discussion, reflection, and exploration—to using language in such a way that we respond to the fullness of God’s presence among us as much by our choice of words as by our care for one another. Recognizing that our experience with inclusive language is an integral part of theological formation, we invite students and others to share as partners with us in this learning process.

We understand “covenant” more in terms of its biblical and theological meaning than in a legal or contractual context. Covenant signifies the common commitment of a community of faith in response to God’s revelation and in partnership with one another. The values implied in the covenant have morally persuaded us to try to generate patterns of speech and behavior that bond the members of the community in mutual respect. We expect all members of the community to address issues of diversity constructively. The entire Inclusive Language Covenant can be found on the COS website, and you are encouraged to read the whole covenant.

6. Plagiarism Policy and Plagiarism Defined
   The plagiarism Policy and Defined paragraphs below must be included in the body of your email (both are below), not within your precourse work. The inclusion of the policy and definition in the body of the email, verifies that you agree to it and your email will represent your signature (which is a requirement). If the email does not include the plagiarism policy and definition it will not be accepted. Your email, with the plagiarism policy and definition will be printed and used as the cover sheet for your precourse assignments, because it has the verification of date and time received, and your agreement to the plagiarism policy and definition.
   Plagiarism Policy - I have read the plagiarism definition below and verify that this assignment represents my own work, except where credit is given.

   Plagiarism Defined: “You plagiarize when, intentionally or not, you use someone else’s words or ideas but fail to credit that person, leading your readers to think that those words are yours. In all fields, you plagiarize when you use a source’s words or ideas without citing that source. In most fields, you plagiarize even when you do credit the source but use its exact words without using quotation marks or block indentation” (201-202). Booth, Wayne C. Booth, Gregory G. Colomb, and Joseph M. Williams. The Craft of Research, Second Edition. Chicago, IL: University of Chicago Press, 2003.

7. If you do not follow the procedure your precourse work WILL NOT BE ACCEPTED! You will receive a confirmation of receipt within 24 hours or notice to resubmit following the process.
